

Impact of incentive driven investment in the Czech Republic

Michal Pícl

Abstract: This paper deals with issue of investment incentives in the Czech Republic and their real impacts on the economy of this country. The paper is divided into three parts. The first part is devoted to investment incentives in the Czech Republic. In particular, attention is given on real impacts that investment incentives can bring. The second part deals offered incentives within the Visegrad group, so that investment incentives policy could be analyzed at the international level in the last part. The contribution evaluates investment incentives policy in the Czech Republic and offers suggestions of parametric changes.

Keywords: Investment, incentive, investment incentives, employment, county, investor, foreign direct investment

JEL classification: R110, E200, E220